Course Support People

The course will be supported Kimberley and Mahab, who will be at every module to support both the teachers and of course you. The role is in the form of voluntary internship.

This is available to students who have completed the Applied Training in the past and would like to continue to develop their knowledge and experience of systemic constellation work. The course supports will ensure smooth continuity between modules, and will be there to assist you if needed.

If you would like to put yourself forward as a Course Support Person in the future, please email the office to let us know and we will put you on the list.

A Note About Privacy

In advance of the training we will send you a consent form, to ask if you are willing to share your contact details with the rest of the group. This enables peer practice groups to be established and group sharing to occur. These details are only to be used regarding the course and are NOT to be used to promote yourself, your work or anything else. We may also take a group photograph for the CSC newsletter or website. Please do not join the photograph if you do not wish to be publicly included.

If you haven't returned your consent form, please can you kindly email it to Hannah, our Course Manager (courses@thesc.net) prior to the course commencing.

An Important Point About the Course

This Foundation Training in Systemic Constellations is a 5-module first year course designed to develop a personal understanding and connection with the unified field and how balance is manifested. The course will establish ways of working with the field, and will give students foundation-level teaching in the important concepts that underpin systemic constellation philosophy.

Please note: This course is run as a learning group. However, the teaching material can sometimes be triggering of our own personal issues. Whilst every attempt is made to hold a safe, contained and nurturing learning environment, students are required to respect the Learning Contract of the group and recognise that this is not a therapy or process group where personal issues can be attended to.

If we feel that your personal issues are overwhelming in such a way that the learning of the group is affected, we reserve the right to ask you to leave the group. It may be possible to repeat any missed modules on a later course.

We do recommend that all students have some form of on-going support in place (such as therapy, supervision, mentoring, coaching or spiritual work) for the duration of the course. Please speak to your tutor should you need any help with this.

Tutorials, Workshop Places & Peer Practice Groups

- In addition to the course, you will also be offered 2 tutorials - further details about who your tutor will be will be given at the first module of the training.
- You are also invited to attend two free of charge workshops as a resource (representative) with any of the faculty during the training
- You will also be encouraged to set up one or several peer groups, perhaps organised geographically. We would like to encourage you to take the opportunity to practice constellation work together between modules

Tutorials

Tutorial support is considered an important part of student development during the course. Students will be asked to arrange two tutorials with their tutor as and when they need them. We suggest that the first is scheduled near the beginning of the course and the second towards the end. Dates for these are to be arranged directly with your tutor. Students may choose between having an individual one-hour session either by phone, Skype or in person. Occasionally, if the tutor has rooms that will accommodate a larger group, two or three students allocated to the same tutor, could combine their slots to have a joint face-to-face session if they prefer. Both tutorials must be taken during the training.

Workshops

We recommend that you attend as many systemic constellations workshops run by the Faculty as possible. As part of your Foundation Training, you are invited to attend 2 free workshops with any of the faculty before the end of the training. For details of all available faculty workshop dates please see our website. www.thecsc.net - the workshops are listed under the 'resources' menu. This list is regularly updated and will reflect all the events available to you.

Please Note: All bookings must be made directly with the trainers - and not through CSC. Simply click the links on the CSC workshop page to book a workshop place directly with the group leader. CSC is not involved in organising these workshops.

To book a place at one of Chris or Gaye's workshops, follow the link to their respective websites. Under 'workshops' you will find the dates for their events. Click onto the workshop that you would like to attend and you can book your free CSC place there by choosing the following option: "Prepaid Representative place via the CSC Training".

Cancellation of Workshops & Tutorials

Please note: We ask for at least 48-hours' notice of cancellation for both tutorials and the workshop places. If you do not give a full 48 hours' notice, then you will forfeit your session.

Missed Modules

If you are unable to attend one of the modules, due to an unavoidable situation, such as sudden illness, bereavement or an agreement made before joining the training, it may be possible to pick up the missed teaching on the next Foundation course only for a nominal charge of £85. A new certificate with the full course hours will then be provided on request.

Food & Breaks at Modules

There will be a break each morning for coffee and another in the afternoon for tea. A lunch break of usually around an hour will be timed for around 1pm.

- Tea, coffee, herb teas, fruit and biscuits are provided at all modules.
- You can either bring food with you for lunch, or you can visit one of the numerous cafes and restaurants nearby.

If you have any special requests for snacks, then please ask the Course Supports as they will be sure to bring what you need.

Certificate of Attendance

At the end of module 5 you will be given a Certificate of Attendance, stating the exact number of hours you have attended the training. The total hours for the course are 120 of which each module is 24 hours.

Additional CSC Courses & Events

CSC is delighted to host an international guest trainer two or three times a year. We also arrange some other Continuing Professional Development (CPD) trainings and workshops.

We strongly recommended that serious students of this work attend these events as they support the development of your own style when working in this field.

These additional CPD events are part of the CSC annual programme of activities, and therefore cannot be attended as a free workshop place as part of this training.

Further details about these additional events can be found on the website www.thecsc.net under 'Courses'.

Guidelines for Transcribing a Constellation

Observing and transcribing a constellation is valuable because:

- Through it the issue holder has an opportunity to revisit the situation at some later time, which often helps to embed the resolving energy.
- The transcriber has the opportunity to take their understanding to a deeper level by detailed study. A constellation that is not fully understood does not 'read' well.
- And a collection of constellations, held in confidence, will support the research and development of this field.

So, what to notice? What to write down? What to miss out or summarise? How important are diagrams? First, set up a three-column document. In the first column write the transcript, alongside in column two list the professional interventions with your analysis and understanding of them and finally in the third column record your personal responses to the work.

The Initial Situation

The opening conversation is critically important. You need to provide the relevant information that the facilitator is given, but also relevant data on the relationship between the two of them, including key moments within the conversation. It is helpful to note the quality of eye contact, the tone of voice, the amount of support needed by the issue holder to maintain focus. If the issue is about a complex system, make sure you have detailed the information – the history, the people involved, the need expressed, the hierarchy and so on.

The Choosing of Representatives

Note how and in which order the representatives are chosen and with what sort of care they are placed. Watch for their initial reactions and interactions. Before they begin to give feedback, see what you make of the configuration yourself.

The Constellation

From then on you will be writing a something like a film script. There will be stage directions, including pauses, tone of voice, emotional responses and so on. There will be the words of the representatives, the words given to the representatives and how they deliver them, and the words of the constellator directed to the issue holder or the group. You need to specify which is which. It will also be important to specify whether it is a representative speaking or the issue holder, whether their words are chosen by the constellator or spontaneously generated and what impact they seem to create. You will need to indicate movements and gestures, and how the constellation shifts through the session. Some mapping is helpful, including the direction faced by the representatives. This can be done visually or verbally.

The Resolution

There will often be conversation, including later comments from the group, which is part of the whole and should not be omitted. You need to describe how it seems to affect the issue holder. And how the group is affected.

Later

- See if you can provide a brief summary of the work that will sit at the front of your transcript, taking it from issue to resolution in a language that illuminates your understanding of the orders.
- Add a commentary about your own process - what impact it had on you, what it illuminated, how else you think it might have gone, your concerns and delights – a personal response that comes from your heart and your truth.
- And lastly, your estimation about what sort of further support, coaching or other work the issue holder might benefit from.
